KRIM PASSES THROUGH FRENCH LINE TO CAPITAL

Surrendered Rifflin Chief Accorded Respect Shown Vanquished Enemies--Will Be Sent To Exile

PARIS, May 27.—Abd El Krim, Rifflin leader who has announced his surrender to the French, passed through the French lines last night and arrived at Targuist, his former capital, at 5 a. m. today, dispatches received here report.

The mountain city from which he fled before the Franco-Spanish advance, is now held by the allied forces. Orders had been sent to advance posts of the French army to receive him as France receives all beaten foes who have shown high military qualities. His surrender had been unconditional. It was announced the leader, who for more than two years has held European troops at bay, would rely entirely on the French for fair treatment.

French authorities have stated that after Krim's capitulation, he would be sent to Fez to await the decision of France as his place of exile.

Airplanes left Fez at dawn today to fly over the Rif, dropping hand bills announcing the surrender of Krim and the ending of hostilities.

Peace in Morocco is guaranteed by the surrender, Paul Painleve, minister of war and former premier, declared.

"Not only are we assured of peace," said Painleve, "but consolation of the French influence in Africa, will inevitably bring amelioration of the situation in Syria."

"We believe police hostilities will end in Syria. The surrender

WIFE WILL CONTEST WILL OF STOKES

NEW YORK, May 27.—Litigation which brought the late W. E. D. Stokes prominently into public notice during his lifetime may continue after his death.

Attorneys for Mrs. Helen Ellwood Stokes, the wife with whom he fought bitterly through the courts for three years, announced after the filing of Stokes' will, which gave to W. E. D. Stokes, Jr., son, by a previous marriage, all of the fortune he had amassed, that they would contest the will. The estate was estimated at between $7,000,000 to $8,000,000.

The contest will be in the interests of Stokes' two minor children by Helen Ellwood Stokes who were not mentioned in the will. Samuel Untermyer who represents Mrs. Stokes said it will be alleged Stokes was under undue influence and lacked the capacity for making a will at the time the testament was drawn.

MEXICANS KIDNAP AMERICAN EMPLOYEE

MEXICO CITY, May 27.—The American embassy here has urged the Mexican government to capture the men who on Tuesday kidnapped J. W. Shanklin, an American employee of the Hacienda del Potrero, sugar ranch at Potrero, Vera Cruz.

O. M. Brown, manager of the ranch who is now in Mexico City, received a telegram advising him of the kidnapping. He notified the embassy.

It was understood here that the other two Americans, C. C. Braden and a man named Gallagher, who were abducted in the state of Durango a few days ago, have been given four days by the bandits who kidnapped them to raise six thousand pesos ransom.

BELIEVE OPERATOR OF FERRY MURDERED

WAVERLY, O., May 27.—Authorities today continued an investigation of the death of Ray C. Flowers, Coopersville ferryboat operator, whose body was found in the Scioto River. The condition of Flowers' throat indicated he was choked to death, Sheriff Anderson asserted. A search for Flowers' body was begun after his crew boat was found several miles down the river. He disappeared Tuesday night.

CINCINNATI, O., May 27.—Warning that spurious $10 bills are being circulated in southern Ohio was issued today by E. T. Bloan, department of justice operative here. The bills are dated "the series of 1914" and are unusually good counterfeits, Bloan warned.

CZAR DENIES RUMOR RESIGNATION WILL BE PRESENTED SOON

Failure Of Goff Dry Bill To Pass Would Make Him Quit

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews is going to "see it through" as dry czar under the terms of his original acceptance of the post in April last year.

In answer to reports that he contemplates early resignation, the dry chieftain merely issues denials.

The United Press is able today to present the exact facts as to Andrews' tenure of office.

If he is defeated in his attempt to get passage of the Goff administration dry bill, he conceivably would quit since he believes his enforcement arm would be crippled without the weapons the bill provides. If it is passed—and the administration believes it will be—then Andrews will remain long enough to see the machine of his dreams put into running order.

That is in keeping with the terms under which he accepted the difficult and in many ways, thankless task of dry czar.

It was figured a year or a little more would be required to lay the ground-work and put the country on the road to actual aridity.

If, in the remainder of this year, Andrews can complete this service, it is likely he will retire from the government service and return to private life, perhaps taking work with some business concern.

COOLIDGE REBUKED TWICE BY INDIANA PLATFORM WORKERS

World Court And Farm Relief Action Are Scored

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 27.—President Coolidge was sharply rebuked twice in the report of the resolutions committee, submitted to the Republican State convention today for adoption as the party's state platform.

The President's stand for American adherence to the world court was condemned at the insistence of Senators James E. Watson and Arthur Robinson, who voted against the court proposal.

Demand was made for legislation to handle the problem of surplus farm products in the face of the administration's opposition to extension of federal aid to farmers. "We reaffirm our unalterable opposition to any association of this government with the so-called league of nations or its world court," said the plank on the world court.

The Republican party in Indiana was pledged to support "such measures as will effectively handle the surplus of farm products so as to insure the farmers the full benefit of the protective tariff."

MODERN SIAMESE TWINS STILL LIVE

SOUTH BEND, Ind., May 27.—Lucie and Bessie Medich—two children born joined together yet who will never see each other—today were reported as growing stronger.

Hospital authorities expect them live as they are responding to artificial feeding. Separation is out of question, owing to presence of single internal organs in the two bodies.

MOSQUITO FLEET TO FIGHT RUNNERS

WASHINGTON, May 27.—A new mosquito fleet will be put in service this fall against rum smugglers, coast guard headquarters announced today.

Contracts for building the fleet of thirty-two speed boats, 125 feet long, have been awarded the American Brown Boveri Electric Company, of Camden, N. J., at $63,000 each.

SMALL ADMINISTRATION UNDER FIRE; PRISON WARDEN REMOVED

Illinois Chief Stands By Appointees Except Joliet Head—Attorney General Promises Fireworks On Pardon Scandal

CHICAGO, May 27.—The turbulence which has marked the administration of Governor Len Small was more pronounced today following the two official barages aimed directly at Small appointees.

The governor—characteristic of his stand throughout his six years of administration—was pictured today as standing by his appointees who were blamed with mismanagement of office.

The two official barages came yesterday. One was when the Will County grand jury at Joliet termed management of the Joliet penitentiary a "disgrace," suggested it be "taken out of politics," then recommended removal of many officials, including the warden, pardon board and numerous subordinates.

The second attack came from Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom—who suggested in no uncertain terms that Will Colvin, chairman of the pardon board and Chauncey Jenkins, head the state welfare board, be removed immediately. This suggestion held a threat as Carlstrom is directing a grand jury probe here into crime conditions, "especially in an alleged pardon mill—and promised a "scorching statement" next week.

Last night Governor Small and Jenkins held a long conference at Springfield. It finally was decided that John L. Whitman, warden of the penitentiary, should be removed and Elmer L. Green, former Lake County sheriff, should be appointed to the post.

CROPS DAMAGED

THOUSANDS DRIVEN FROM HOME BY VOLGA RIVER FLOOD IN RUSSIA

MOSCOW, May 27.—Thousands of persons have been driven from their homes by a flood which has moved down the Volga River in the past few weeks and is sweeping over parts of low lying river towns and surrounding country. Amusement places at Pokrovsk have been closed and the sale of liquor forbidden. Soldiers have been sent to maintain order. Railroad communications between Saratov and eastern and southern points in the Urals and Astrakhan is endangered, dispatches said.

It was proposed today that Pokrovsk be evacuated. There was danger the whole town might be submerged. The collapse of an embankment rendered conditions dangerous in the small city which lies just across the river from Saratov.

The water was eight feet high in the streets of the neighboring Volga river town of Marxstadt.

REPUBLICAN CHIEF ANSWERS GOVERNOR DONAHEY'S CHARGES

Declares State Is Near Bankruptcy And Balance Spent

COLUMBUS, O., May 27.—Smouldering fires burned today following the announcement by Governor Vic Donahey that he would be a candidate for renomination and election.

A Republican broadside was fired by Fred W. Warner, Marion, chairman of the Republican state central committee, who charged the governor had failed "to offer a single constructive policy."

From within the Democratic party came an open letter from A. P. Sandles, Ottawa, candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

"The governor has never offered any solution for the state's financial problems," declared Warner, criticizing the governor's statement of yesterday in which he announced his candidacy.

"The governor's statement charging Republican bosses, senate leaders and utilities interests conspired to deprive him of his constitutional power as governor, is as void of substantial reason as is possibly could be," Warner said.

Warner charged that when Governor Donahey assumed office, "there was a balance of $31,000,000 in the state treasury and that now the entire commonwealth is substantially in a state of bankruptcy as a result of his administration."

GOVERNOR HELPS AUTO VICTIMS

COSHOCTON, May 27.—Gov. Vic Donahey, his son Hal, and his son-in-law, Park Ogden, rescued two women and a man from beneath an overturned truck here last night, it became known today.

The governor was returning from Dover, Ohio, where he had addressed the Tuscarawas County Jefferson Democratic Club, when he came upon the overturned truck.

Entangled in the wreckage were Mrs. William Moore, of New Comerstown, who was near death today, the woman's husband, William, and Mrs. Ida Stahr.

The governor, Ogden and Hal Donahey extricated the trio from the wreckage and removed them to a hospital here in the executive's automobile.

Examination at the hospital revealed that Moore and Mrs. Stahr had sustained only minor injuries.

After delivering the injured to the hospital the governor continued on his return to Columbus.

WILL BE CANDIDATE

COSHOCTON, O., May 27.—Judge Charles B. Hunt, of Coshocton, will be a candidate for the presidency of the Ohio State Bar Association when the association holds its annual midsummer meeting at Cedar Point, July 6, 7, and 8, he announced.

Wallace Dempsey, of New York, chairman of the House Rivers and Harbors committee, tonight are scheduled to debate here the respective merits of the so-called New York ship canal and the St. Lawrence waterway.

MAN WHO CONCEIVED GROUP PRAYER PLAN EXPLAINS PURPOSE

"Sin Weary" Hope For Manifestation From Supreme Being

(A group of devout Christians who have become "weary of sin," are planning a one hour silent prayer service in the pine woods of Minnesota June 1. This movement is likely to be followed throughout other sections of the country, according to information today and Vernon Ewing, originator of the idea, has written the following explanation of the service for the United Press.)

By VERNON EWING
TAMARACK, Minn., May 27.—Those of little faith in prayer should consider the wonders of the universe, the countless worlds through a seemingly endless space, and ask themselves if the intelligence behind all this is not able to deal directly with us.

Now imagine a large assemblage gathered in silence awaiting a sign from Him. He may do as he pleases.

Will He disappoint us?

I doubt it, providing all classes of people participate, making no plea for any particular manifestation, but leaving it to Him to do as He pleases. God is no respecter of persons—all are equal in His sight—and if He is given an opportunity to do as He pleases with an assembly of all classes, He surely will not disappoint them.

I cannot promise that God will do anything. It is entirely up to Him. But if He does not it will not be because He is not given the chance.

As for criticism that has been expressed, to me it does not seem proper for a minister of the gospel to question either the prayer or the sincerity of persons who have faith in prayer obtaining a response from God.

The fifth victim was shot to death near Cumberland, Md., police say. Since the finding of Sorrenti's body, Dominick Cola has been shot down in his home here. JURY VERDICT SAYS PRODUCER STRAYED FROM TRUTH IN CASE

Convicted on Two Counts Sequel To Bath Tub Party

NEW YORK, May 27.—Earl Carroll, Broadway theatrical producer today was found guilty on two counts of perjury as an outgrowth of the grand jury investigation of the party he gave on the night of February 22 and 23.

The counts on which he was convicted were the third and sixth in the indictment, both having to do with Carroll's denial that Miss Joyce Hawley had bathed in a tub alleged to contain liquor as the climax of his party.

He was acquitted on the two remaining counts which had to do with his denial that he had served liquor at his party. Two other counts relating to the guest list had previously been dismissed.

The jury, when it retired, had been instructed that only a question of perjury was before it and not any violation of the national prohibition act.

Federal George Goddard in his charge, said the sole questions to be considered were:

1. Did Carroll serve intoxicating liquor at the party?

2. Did any one get into the bath tub in which Joyce Hawley was alleged to have bathed?

It was immaterial, Judge Goddard said, whether the party was public or private, as Carroll was not being tried under the dry law, but for perjury in connection with his version of the party as given to the grand jury.

CONTINUE MOVE TO EXPEL MODERNISTS

WASHINGTON, May 27.—A campaign to expel the modernists from the Northern Baptist Church, defeated in convention here will be carried back to the church by the ultra fundamentalists.

A meeting of the Baptist Bible conference, called after the first resolution was defeated, resulted in the decision to continue fighting.

The Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist Church, New York, attended by John J. Rockefeller, Jr., was denounced by the meeting as an apostate and the fundamentalists decided to challenge the right of the Fosdick church, to seats in the conference. Fosdick and his church, the ultra Fundamentalists stated in a resolution, "stand not only as the champions of modernism, but also as the representatives of the uncounted millions of Rockefeller wealth."

"So lovely . . . I'd be afraid to wash it"

But, Madame, every inch of these summery rayons, rayon and cotton, or novel cotton materials has been washed before you see them . . .

It does seem unbelievable—that these colorful, soft, shining rayons can be successfully washed—that washing does not mar their dainty freshness.

But it's true—guaranteed true—when the material comes from the Aberfoyle Mills.

Tempting rayons, combinations of rayon and cotton, of silk and cotton—all Aberfoyle Fabrics can be laundered—just as you'd launder any fine wash fabric.

Not a scrap of material leaves the Aberfoyle Mills until it has first been washed. Each piece of goods is thrown into huge tubs and thoroughly washed with soap in warm water. That's the test Aberfoyle gives its fabrics and its colors.

Here is the guarantee Aberfoyle makes the public:

"ALL ABERFOYLE FABRICS ARE GUARANTEED FAST TO SUN AND WASHING"

So make sure it's Aberfoyle before you buy. Then you are certain to get the benefit of forty years' experience in fabric-making—the benefit of the best methods, dyes, designs. Look for the name and guarantee of Aberfoyle on the ends of boards that carry the material. Aberfoyle fabrics are sold by better-class retailers and department stores everywhere.

TO WHOLESALE EXCLUSIVELY

An Open Invitation to Farmers To Lend Us a Farm!

We want someone who has a farm to lend it to us long enough to DEMONSTRATE A FARMALL! We supply the FARMALL, the gas, oil, man to run it, and maybe a couple hampers of Sandwiches to relieve the strain of watching a FARMALL doing its acrobatics.

This farm must be covered with dirt in which corn has been planted, as we aim to CULTIVATE on this first demonstration.

We would like to have this farm located not TOO far from Xenia, so we won't have to travel too far with our outfit.

The farmer who lends us this farm will profit to the extent of having a lot of his corn cultivated free, but outside of this, he won't get a whole lot except the fun of having a crowd milling around his barn lot half a day or so.

WE COULD buy a farm for this purpose but we figured it would cost lots more than to borrow one, so being good-natured and amiable, we decided on the latter plan.

Call me up or write or come in personally.

Cordially yours,

WM. B. MCALLISTER, Gen. Mgr.

Beal Complains of Moonlight! Here's What He Says:

Something should be done about dark nights. Why is it that in Xenia the moon always comes out on bright nights when its brightness is unnecessary? Do other cities suffer in this way? Are the business men of this town going to stand still and allow an injustice of this sort to keep on unnoticed, unchallenged? Are we men or mice? Answer THAT!

If co-operation is needed, the members of the Greene County Hardware Company stand ready and willing to do their share in waving the flag, blowing the trumpets and throwing the bull! Let the men, women and youth of this fair city rise in their might and sweep this injustice clean out of Greene County! Let's GO!

Sutton Twins Still Silent!

They are NOT quiet, however, but are engaged in their chosen profession of selling mammoth quantities of Studebakers, Willys-Knights and Overland cars, thereby scattering seeds of joy and at the SAME time making a profit from which they gain their livelihood.

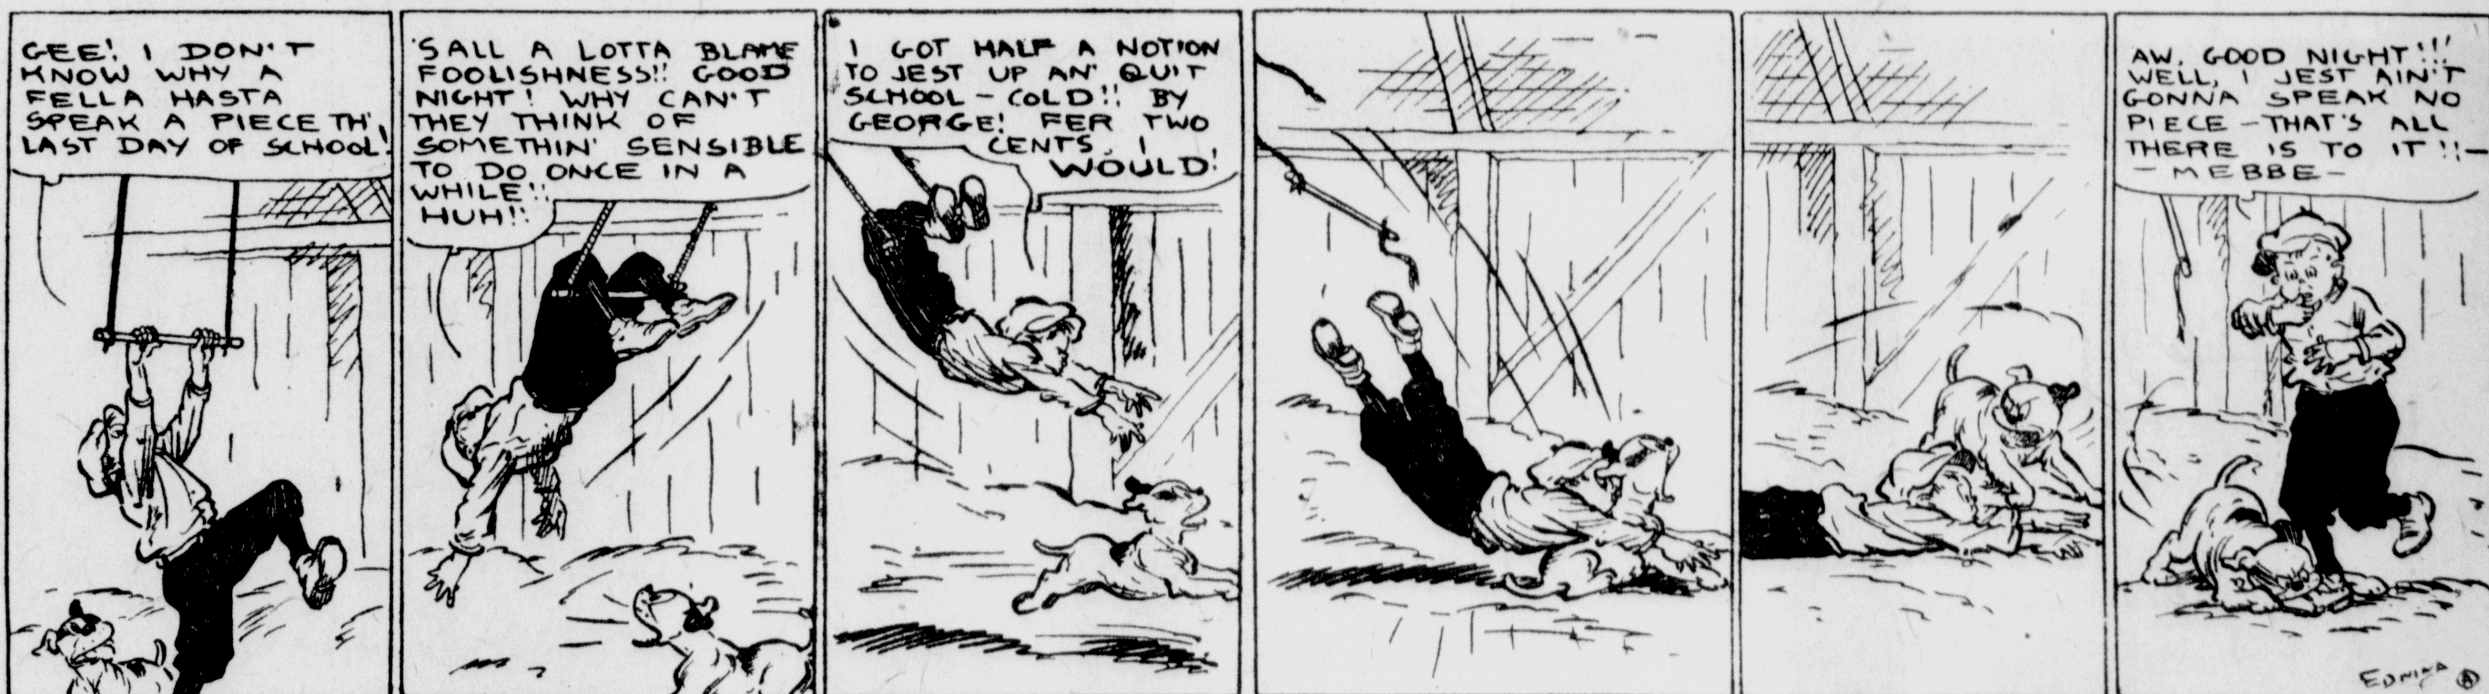

Next week's ad here will probably contain the name and address of the farmer who lends his farm to Mack for the FARMALL DEMONSTRATION. Everyone should read this ad thoroughly in order to enjoy perfect, bounding health.

MR. KOHLER

In Cleveland, Ohio there is a man by the name of Fred Kohler, dignified by the title of sheriff, who, a number of judges have decided, has been making profit from an allowance of money which he was supposed to spend on feeding the prisoners in his jail.

Mr. Kohler is not unique in this profit-making scheme; other sheriffs in the state do the same thing. Apparently the offense is not a criminal one, nor can it by any means be termed a civil matter.

So Mr. Kohler is, or rather was, 'sitting on top of the world'. We say 'was' because certain wise men have ordered that he stop making profit from the money he is given to feed prisoners.

However, with all their wisdom, the wise men have had to leave Mr. Kohler a certain amount of latitude, and the margin left him to pay for a cook and for cooking utensils is much larger in the case of federal prisoners than others.

Now that Cleveland has ordered Mr. Kohler to give the criminals a little better food it might be supposed that other sheriffs in Ohio will immediately start expending the full amount given them to feed those who for some crime or other are forced to languish behind the iron bars.

To their credit be it said that the majority of sheriffs in the state already do spend the full quota, but in some cases the prisoners go under-nourished unless they can buy, with their own money, delicacies which are sold in the jail.

In some jails it is said these delicacies are sold by prisoners, who pay the sheriff so much per day for the concession.

Ohio today is progressive enough to realize that the criminal is to be pitied rather than despised, that he is to be corrected rather than punished. Furthermore most people understand that to embitter those who are placed in custody is to make them worse offenders after release, than before their sentence was started.

One of the surest ways to starve a human being's soul is to starve its body.

Does it seem right that in one of the leading parts of the world, there should be anything but a stabilized diet for the unfortunate folk who through some fault of a preceding generation, through environment or through circumstance have transgressed?

We have as great a duty towards the criminal as we have towards the totally insane. If the conducting of a state institute for the insane was on a starvation basis there would be a great outcry.

It is time for drastic action to be taken with regard to the feeding of prisoners. They should not be pampered, but they should be cared for.

The system which allows an individual to seek election by the people and get his campaign expenses back from prisoners' food is a blot on any state's fair name.

THE LITTLE BOY WHO SHOULD HAVE DIED

His mother cried so when she thought
His little life about to end,
He saw her falling tears, and made
A prayer to God, as she had taught,
And so the hand of death was stayed.

"Dear God," he said, "I want to live,
My mother seems to need me so,
Let me a little while remain,
Spare her the hurt my death would give,
And gladly I will bear the pain."

He lived, and yet his twisted frame
No more on earth could romp about;
He heard the children call outside.

Just another report of sickness and suffering relieved by Doan's Pills. Another Xenia case that tells of lasting benefit. What can be more convincing? Thousands recommend Doan's for backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and distressing urinary disorders. Doan's are a stimulant to the kidneys. They have helped thousands and should help you. A Xenia case:
J. F. Mellage, prop. shoe repair shop, 222 S. Detroit St., says: "My back ached day in and day out. Every time I stooped, I had pains like a knife through my back. Mornings I dreaded to get up. I was so stiff and lame. My kidneys were disordered, too. The use of Doan's Pills rid me of the trouble." (Statement given August 15, 1921).

On March 19, 1926 Mr. Mellage said: "My kidneys have been all right since Doan's Pills rid me of my trouble."

TWO HOMES
MADE HAPPY

By Women Who Used Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I think it is the most wonderful medicine I ever tried." is the statement made by Mrs. Goldie Shoup of May View, Illinois. She declares that after taking the Compound she is in better health than before.

Mrs. J. Storms of 29 Lane Street, Paterson, N. J., writes: "I can not speak too highly of your medicine and I recommend it to all my friends."

These statements were taken from two enthusiastic letters which tell of the help that has been received from using the Vegetable Compound. Both Mrs. Shoup and Mrs. Storms were in a run-down condition which caused them much unhappiness. When women are suffering from lack of strength and from weakness, their own life and that of their family is affected. When they feel well and strong and are able to do their household easily, happy homes are the result.

CUSHION UP

I remember when rubber heels were a novelty and although an enterprising advertiser argued his product far and wide, still the prejudice prevailed and folk went on with their solid treads.

But now how do we find things? Rubber heels are quite universal, and when I buy my pair of shoes I note the rubber heels are there in advance.

Why rubber heels? Well because they make life's walk easier. The scientists tell us about the terrible jolt that each hit of the heel gives to the body at it hits the pavement. And he tells of the many effects—that are not good—which result from these hundreds of needless jolts—he they ever so humble.

I am no scientist but I like rubber heels! I find my nerves in a much happier frame of behavior; and besides I like the quiet sound of the rubber heel. There is too much noise in this world anyway.

I wish that rubber heels or some sort of cushion might be invented for people's tongues, or voices, or their looks, or their tempers.

We all need cushioning throughout. You often hear the phrase:

"He or she gets on my nerves." But if those nerves had what rubber heels give to the shoe, then that person would have a hard time getting on anybody's nerves. The calm and collected person is the exception in this world.

I know a man who is hard to ruffle. I think of him as well cushioned. The harsh noises of this world hit him silently. He has absolute control of himself.

The Theatre

Elsie Janis, angel of the doughboys, vivacious queen of the variety stage and the star to which a well-known Indiana writing gentleman hitched his wagon years ago, has returned to the Paris vaudeville stage.

She is appearing for a fortnight at Music Hall des Champs Elysees and was given a cordial reception as she began her impressions of such French favorites as Mistinguett, of the shapely limbs and no voice, Raquel Meller as she was before she came to the United States and others.

Miss Janis, the mimic, might have been a Parisienne herself, so imitable was her dialect in her different numbers. At the close she wound up with a little speech in French.

And thus it was that Elsie Janis returned to the vaudeville stage of Paris. A few years ago she entertained soldiers defending democracy on French soil in the war against Germany.

As a mimic she has no peer. The work that would mean arduous study of characters for most people comes easy to her. She sees a performer in action once and is able to reproduce the stunt almost perfectly after a little practice. Perhaps her hardest imitation is of Will Rogers. But she learned to use a lasso dexterously and chewing gum blatantly and that was that.

Miss Janis travels with her mother, her constant companion. In this age of frequent marriages and frequent divorces of stage folk, her celibacy invites wonder. To the Indiana writer mentioned in the opening paragraph, it has meant disappointment.

As a youngster, he began trailing at the heels of Miss Janis. His work as a reporter, press agent, playwright put him in close touch with the stage. On her trips over the country he followed, paying ardent court. It is computed that she must have refused him hundreds of times.

The story is not well known and perhaps it would open fresh wounds to give his name. He now spends most of his time at his Indiana home apparently having given up the marital alliance he had longed for as a young man. And Miss Janis in Paris, continues to amuse the variety audiences.

MOOSE CIRCUS PLEASES CROWD THAT BRAVES OPENING WEATHER

Rain held down the crowd to below expectations and marred the opening of the Moose Circus at the Ringer show grounds on Cincinnati Ave. Wednesday night. However, the many features of the circus, acrobats, an aerialist, juggler, gymnast and a group of trained animal acts pleased the small body of entertainment-lovers.

The circus is being sponsored by Xenia Lodge No. 1629, Loyal Order of Moose and Xenia Chapter, No. 310, Women of Mooseheart Legion and will continue through Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

FACULTY DEFEATED BY SENIORS 9 TO 4 IN WEDNESDAY TILT

Teachers for the second time this year succumbed to the athletic prowess of the students when the Central High School seniors defeated the faculty nine 9 to 4 in a five-inning game at Washington Park Wednesday afternoon.

Stearns pitched well and was accorded good support by his mates. Vic Kolb, the faculty twirler, was something of a puzzle but his own wildness coupled with misplays in the field contributed to the defeat.

Whatever the faculty team lacked in consistent hitting and fielding the team made up for in range slugging. Kolb and Clemans weighed in with triples and Weaver inserted a double.

The seniors expect to play a return game with the Junior Business Men's Club at Washington Park Friday afternoon.

Faculty lineup: Tull, c; Kolb, p; Wipert, 1b; Rupert, 2b; Whitworth, ss; Ballantyne, 3b; Weaver, cf; Clemans, lf; Smith, rf. Senior lineup: Rakoff, c; Stearns, p; Scurry, 1b; Boxwell, 2b; Finley, ss; Parrett, 3b; Hicks, lf; Nash, rf; Huston, cf; Score by innings:

Where Would I Find Ten Thousand Dollars

"How did I know that he was going to shoot out of that road? Right in front of my radiator. Never sounded his horn. Said he did; but he's a liar."

"And after I took him to the hospital and told 'em to spare no expense in making him comfortable, he turns and sues me. Asks $10,000. Has three witnesses (all of 'em in the car with him) to swear I was going sixty miles an hour."

"Offers to settle out of court for $3,500. Lawyer says I might do worse. Says those three witnesses are bad. Three men's word against mine. Says I ought to have found some myself. Listens nice—but there weren't any to find."

"Think I'll hand over $10,000 without a fight? 'Millions for defense; but not one cent for tribute,' that's my motto."

"But why didn't I buy that insurance Cox was trying to sell me? Told him I'd driven ten years without an accident and didn't see why I should begin now. He did say something about a lot of fool drivers on the road. Ought to have believed him. But I didn't think they made 'em as dumb and crooked as that fellow.

"What did he say insurance cost? Less than a forty, I know. Lost ten times that amount already in sales, just worrying about this. Funny how a thing like this upsets a fellow. What's the use of working if you've got to hand over everything you've made to some fool who doesn't know how to drive a car?"

"Wonder what this jury will give him? Seen some pretty big awards lately in the newspapers. Bigger than $10,000, some of 'em. Never can tell what a jury will do. $10,000 (of my money) wouldn't seem much to them."

"Where would I find the ten? Wish that insurance company were handing the case for me. Wonder if I hadn't better tell my lawyer, if he can settle for $2,500 to go ahead and do it. Know a hundred better uses for $2,500. Hate to take chances on a jury, though."

"Taught me a lesson. Won't catch me driving a car again unless it's fully insured. Leggam see."

GIRL WHO TEASED SCHOOL SAPIST IS STILL ABUSING HIM; SHE'S HIS WIFE SAYS SAUER

By MACK SAUER

A recent week-end trip to the little village, where many years ago I made a name for myself and one for my sweetheart in the bark of an old birch, brought back happy memories of the "puppy-love" days of my youth.

We didn't do everything the Bible tells us to when I was in school, but we did "love one another." Before I graduated I loved everything but one girl in the class and deviled eggs. In cancelling names with the "Friendship-Courtship-True Love Marriage-Hate" system I found I loved every girl in the school. And in due time I did love every one but one—her father wouldn't allow her to speak to me.

True love is like an egg—the older it gets the stronger it grows. And love, whether true or not, has always been a mystery to me. When I look at some of my friends here in Xenia, and think that their wives love them, it is far beyond my power of imagination to figure out how they can do it. But for a strange love plot, listen to this tale:

In my graduating class was Steve O., a big, awkward, overgrown country boy, whose shirt sleeves were too short for his arms, and whose coat sleeves were too short for his shirt sleeves. His head was large, covered with bushy hair and dandruff, and hung forward from the neck of his coat, like a crow hanging on the top of a flag pole.

If ever Steve loved during his high school days, not even the object of his affection knew it. He wrote no notes, carried no books to and from school for fair maidens, smile and winked at no one. He never did a mischievous trick during his entire school career, and always was at the head of his class in all studies. He was happiest when let alone.

A Teaser Among those who derived great amusement from teasing Steve, for he was the "knot" of all the jesters of the school, was Malissa O., the daughter of the wealthiest village dairyman. Her complexion was as white as the milk from her father's herd, her disposition as gentle and kind as that of any heifer that grazed on the neighboring hills, and she was as popular about town as the butter milk for which her father's dairy was famous.

"To know her was to love her," and most everyone, but Steve did. He took her jestings and jokes without a word. He saw himself portrayed in chalk drawings of every hideous design on the blackboard from time to time, and very often he recognized the work as that of the mischievous Malissa. Yet nothing she did seemed to disturb him.

In fact, only once during Steve's high school career did I see him move from his slow, easy gait and get into action. And then he was like a keyser spouting forth in a mad fury.

For weeks and months the village bully had teased and abused him, and Steve's only retort was "My word! Faded away from here." And then one day at the last recess Steve turned to the bully and belittled "we'll settle this at McClaves corner tonight." And they did. The bully got the thrashing of his life. Steve slumped back into his old seat and turned a deaf ear to those who heaped congratulations upon him.

My recent visit being the first in ten years, I was much interested in the members of the old class, and asked where Steve was and what he was doing.

A Teacher "Steve is teaching in the grade schools here," one of the villagers informed me, "and is getting along fine. He is married, has a baby boy about 6 months old, and lives in a new bungalow on top of the hill."

As I hurried up the winding path toward the house which had been pointed out to me, I wondered who could have fallen in love with Steve. On his front lawn was a young woman sprinkling flowers and humming a familiar tune. On hearing my footsteps she raised her head and as I glanced at her I stammered, "Malissa!"

Here indeed I found a "love nest." Here was happiness such as I have not seen in a long time. It was plain to see that Malissa now thought Steve was the "cream of the town," even though he appeared to me to be the same slow, easy-going chap he was in school. Their new home was really up-to-date and the modern bath reminded me of the days when Steve went to a Y. M. C. A. in a nearby city each Saturday to take a shower bath.

It was late Saturday afternoon when I prepared to leave them for the nearby city. Steve turned to me and said: "I'll ride down to the city with you; I want to go down and take my Saturday bath."

"Why you have a bath room here. Why go to the city?" I asked. "We only use that for company and on holidays," Steve said, and Malissa nodded her approval. As we rode along there were few words spoken between us. I was thinking about what a strange thing is love and heaven only knows what Steve was thinking about. Frankly I imagine he was chuckling to himself about how he had me guessing. And was pleased with himself because he was not the fool he knew we always thought him to be. Anyway, love, like "heavenly Chinee," is peculiar.

"If men did the cooking they would insist on a good stove"

Where is the woman who does not agree with Mrs. Rorer's statement? Yet why will so many women put up with an inefficient stove day after day?

MRS. RORER, famous Philadelphia cooking expert, and five other famous cooks who recently conducted a practical test of the Perfection Stove, agree that good cooking results depend to a great extent on a good stove. They agree, too, after critical, exhaustive cooking tests that the Perfection is a mighty good stove. Their comments on the Perfection's performance will give you some idea of what men would demand, and what experts do demand of a stove.

Easy operation. "I like equipment which is easy to work with," said Mrs. Belle DeGraf, San Francisco, home economics counselor. "And the Perfection certainly is. It lights at the touch of a match. And the heat is regulated by a simple turn of the wick."

Adaptable, too. "The Perfection proved its adaptability to me," commented Mrs. Kate B. Vaughn, Los Angeles, home economics director, "by performing many cooking operations at the same time—frying, baking, boiling, and broiling."

Ample heat supply. "And," said Miss Rosa Michaelis, famous New Orleans specialist, "there is no lessening of heat, regardless of how many burners are lighted. Each is an independent unit."

Dependable flames. "That's true," remarked Miss Lucy G. Allen, of the Boston School of Cookery. "And the flames stay just as you set them. They do not creep."

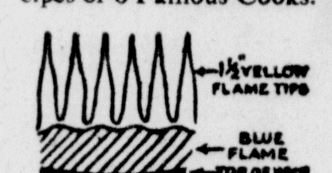

And clean. "There's no soot or odor, either, when you cook on the Perfection," added Mrs. Rorer. "The efficient long chimneys burn the oil completely before the heat reaches the utensils."

Safe and economical. "All these points recommend the Perfection," said Miss Margaret A. Hall, Battle Creek College of Home Economics. "And, in addition, it is safe and economical in operation. What more could anyone ask of a stove?"

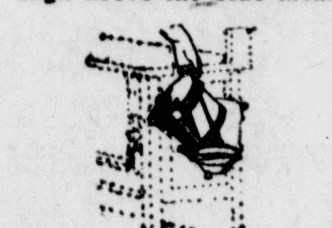

In other words, the Perfection meets the high standards of the six critical cooks. It will meet yours, too. See the 1926 Perfections at any dealer's. All sizes from a one-burner model at $7.25 to a five-burner range at $130.00. Every woman who cooks deserves a good stove.

EXPECT FRANCHISE FOR TRACTION WILL BE GIVEN THURSDAY

City Commission is expected to pass an ordinance authorizing the granting of a twenty-year renewal of the franchise of the Dayton, Springfield and Xenia Southern Railway Co. for interurban service into the city on its second reading Thursday night.

Minor changes may be discussed and written into the ordinance at the meeting to further protect the city's rights.

In view of the company's action in obtaining authority from federal court to abandon the city line, some clause may be inserted in the ordinance protecting the city should the traction people see fit to withdraw interurban service altogether at any time during the twenty-year period.

Commissioners wish the company to be obligated to repair the streets should this happen and the rails be removed as in the case of the one-man street car line.

MODERN AUTO TOURIST CARRIES HOTEL ON HIS RUNNING BOARD

Genians contemplating auto-camping trips this summer and little ago probable things needed find the one developments in equipment are elaborate this year than ever. Tourist supply sections of local stores present a seemingly endless array of appliances and modern conveniences for the auto camper. The ordinary camping outfit reveals in every detail is expensive. An average motorist or tourist in carrying an outfit will spend not less than $50. Think of the innumerable things he needs. A tent, cot, a sleeping bag, blankets, water bucket and in these—these are necessities—and love can buy just about anything else he wants.

The modern tourist who travels now with a hotel on his running board needs suffer no hardships. Look at all the new conveniences. For example, several styles of refrigerators are now being made to fit an automobile. Some use ice and some take water. Another new development is combination tanks for water, oil and gasoline. Many travelers carry their own water in tanks, not depending upon the supply available along the road. Clothing is generally of khaki, stout and strong and not easily soiled.

Such things as cooking utensils, fishing and hunting equipment, axes, lanterns and flashlights may be bought and strapped to the car.

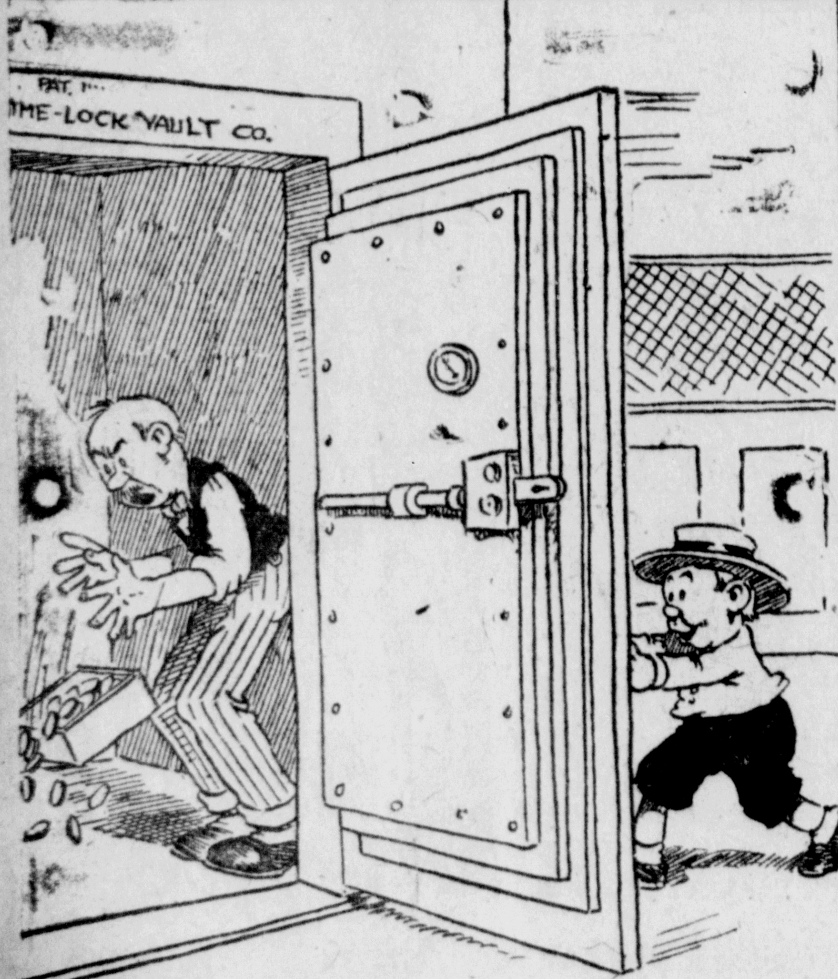

Popularity of the auto camping trip is increasing by leaps and bounds. As a result, tourist camps have sprung up in all parts of the country, on every main highway. Formerly the hardships of this kind of trip were many but the advantages are increasing and the disadvantages rapidly removed due mainly to the camps furnishing places to spend the night in comfort, and the development of a flourishing business in all kinds of equipment for the camper-tourist. The auto camp is the latest innovation.

Greene County has none at present. The county has one or two privately owned but these are nothing beside the modern-equipped ones in other cities. The Xenia Fairground was used for this purpose for some time. Now many of these camps have cottages, kitchens, shower baths, reading rooms, and furnished bungalows which are rented to tourists for small fees. They are really open-air hotels.

The modern car of the auto camper may look like a moving van but it will be comfortable and cosy. It resembles a house on wheels. Thousands of motorists will be choosing this form of vacation and starting cross country trips soon but the heaviest traffic will come in July and August, the hot months. Every tourist camp will then be crowded to overflowing.

My Matrimonial Vacation

by VIOLET DARE

AUTHOR OF "The Half-Time Wife," "The Husband Tamer," "One Wife on Approval," etc.

NATHALIE and DICK JORDAN, and with them goes to the island home of.

BILL EWING, who has taken refuge there as the result of an unhappy love affair.

Ewing falls in love with Nancy, and she decides to divorce her husband and marry him.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT XXXV—A STOWAWAY

BILL and Nathalie and Dick went over to Nassau with me the next afternoon; there was a small boat that was to take the passengers out to the big liner that was anchored some distance out. It was just twilight when at last we started. I stood waving to Bill until we were well out, and then went to the side of the boat where I could see the liner.

My eyes were filled with tears. I hated to leave the enchanted bit of the tropics where I had found Bill, and happiness. I told myself that I'd always been a shallow flirt, that I'd married Jim without knowing whether I really loved him or whether it was just fascination that was leading me into marriage.

But now I really was in love. I felt like a different person. I stood there looking at the ship that was to carry me back to New York, and wished that I could fly instead of having to spend three days at sea.

As it grew darker lights went on all over the ship; it was a gorgeous thing to look at, as it lay there at anchor, waiting for us.

But I had to stop being romantic and decide what I was to do when I boarded the ship, without a ticket, a stowaway. I knew that every inch of space was taken. What would they do with me?

Anyway, they couldn't make me get off and walk back! That was some consolation!

People all about me were chattering gaily. Many of them were laden with tropical fruit and beautifully woven baskets that they were taking home with them. Suddenly I felt very much alone; if it hadn't been for my hopes of the future I'd have felt very desolate.

When we reached the liner and were safely aboard I found a steamer chair that was off in a corner by itself, and curled up there, hoping that nobody would notice me. Everybody else was rushing around, finding their staterooms and getting settled. Never before had a stowaway seemed so desirable to me!

When we had been out for an hour I went to the purser.

"I haven't any room," I told him, "and I haven't a ticket. But I've got to get back to New York. What shall I do?"

KRIM PASSES THROUGH FRENCH LINE TO CAPITAL

Surrendered Rifflian Chief Accorded Respect Shown Vanquished Enemies--Will Be Sent To Exile

PARIS, May 27.—Abd El Krim, Rifflian leader who has announced his surrender to the French, passed through the French lines last night and arrived at Targuist, his former capital, at 5 a. m. today, dispatches received here report.

The mountain city from which he fled before the Franco-Spanish advance, is now held by the allied forces.

Orders had been sent to advance posts of the French army to receive him as France receives all beaten foes who have shown high military qualities.

His surrender had been unconditional. It was announced the leader, who for more than two years has held European troops at bay, would rely entirely on the French for fair treatment.

French authorities have stated that after Krim's capitulation, he would be sent to Fez to await the decision of France as his place of exile.

Airplanes left Fez at dawn today to fly over the Rif, dropping hand bills announcing the surrender of Krim and the ending of hostilities.

Peace in Morocco is guaranteed by the surrender, Paul Painleve, minister of war and former premier, declared.

"Not only are we assured of peace," said Painleve, "but consolation of the French influence in Africa, will inevitably bring amelioration of the situation in Syria."

"We believe police hostilities will end in Syria. The surrender

WIFE WILL CONTEST WILL OF STOKES

NEW YORK, May 27.—Litigation which brought the late W. E. D. Stokes prominently into public notice during his life-time will continue after his death.

Attorneys for Mrs. Helen Ellwood Stokes, the wife with whom he fought bitterly through the courts for three years, announced after the filing of Stokes' will, which gave to W. E. D. Stokes, Jr., son, by a previous marriage, all of the fortune he had amassed, that they would contest the will.

The estate was estimated at between $7,000,000 to $8,000,000.

The contest will be in the interests of Stokes' two minor children by Helen Ellwood Stokes who were not mentioned in the will.

Samuel Untermyer who represents Mrs. Stokes said it will be alleged Stokes was under undue influence and lacked the capacity for making a will at the time the testament was drawn.

CZAR DENIES RUMOR RESIGNATION WILL BE PRESENTED SOON

Failure Of Goff Dry Bill To Pass Would Make Him Quit

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews is going to "see it through" as dry czar under the terms of his original acceptance of the post in April last year.

In answer to reports that he contemplates early resignation, the dry chieftain merely issues denials.

The United Press is able today to present the exact facts as to Andrews' tenure of office.

If he is defeated in his attempt to get passage of the Goff administration bill, he conceivably would quit since he believes his enforcement arm would be crippled without the weapons the bill provides.

If it is passed—and the administration believes it will be—then Andrews will remain long enough to see the machine of his dreams put into running order.

That is in keeping with the terms under which he accepted the difficult and in many ways, thankless task of dry czar.

It was figured a year or a little more would be required to lay the ground-work and put the country on the road to actual aridity.

If, in the remainder of this year, Andrews can complete this service, it is likely he will retire from the government service and return to private life, perhaps taking work with some business concern.

COOLIDGE REBUKED TWICE BY INDIANA PLATFORM WORKERS

World Court And Farm Relief Action Are Scored

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 27.—President Coolidge was sharply rebuked twice in the report of the resolutions committee, submitted to the Republican State convention today for adoption as the party's state platform.

The President's stand for American adherence to the world court was condemned at the insistence of Senators James E. Watson and Arthur Robinson, who voted against the court proposal.

Demand was made for legislation to handle the problem of surplus farm products in the face of the administration's opposition to extension of federal aid to farmers.

"We reaffirm our unalterable opposition to any association of this government with the so-called league of nations or its world court," said the plank on the world court.

The Republican party in Indiana was pledged to support "such measures as will effectively handle the surplus of farm products so as to insure the farmers the full benefit of the protective tariff."

MODERN SIAMESE TWINS STILL LIVE

SOUTH BEND, Ind., May 27.—Lucie and Bessie Medich—the two children born joined together yet who will never see each other—today were reported as growing stronger.

SMALL ADMINISTRATION UNDER FIRE; PRISON WARDEN REMOVED

Illinois Chief Stands By Appointees Except Joliet Head—Attorney General Promises Fireworks On Pardon Scandal

CHICAGO, May 27.—The turbulence which has marked the administration of Governor Len Small was more pronounced today following the two official barages aimed directly at Small appointees.

The governor—characteristic of his stand throughout his six years of administration—was pictured today as standing by his appointees who were blamed with mismanagement of office.

The two official barages came yesterday. One was when the Will County grand jury at Joliet termed management of the Joliet penitentiary a "disgrace" suggested it be "taken out of politics," then recommended removal of many officials, including the warden, pardon board and numerous subordinates.

The second attack came from Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom—who suggested in no uncertain terms that Will Colvin, chairman of the pardon board and Chauncey Jenkins, head the state welfare board, be removed immediately.

This suggestion held a threat as Carlstrom is directing a grand jury probe into crime conditions, "especially into an alleged pardon mill," and promised a "scorching statement" next week.

Last night Governor Small and Jenkins held a long conference at Springfield. It finally was decided that John L. Whitman, warden of the penitentiary, should be removed and Elmer L. Green, former Lake County sheriff, should be appointed to the post.

THOUSANDS DRIVEN FROM HOME BY VOLGA RIVER FLOOD IN RUSSIA

MOSCOW, May 27.—Thousands of persons have been driven from their homes by a flood which has moved down the Volga River in the past few weeks and is sweeping over parts of low lying river towns and surrounding country, dispatches from Saratov today reported.

Amusement places at Pokrovsk have been closed and the sale of liquor forbidden. Soldiers have been sent to maintain order. Railroad communications between Saratov and eastern and southern points in the Urals and Astrakhan is endangered, dispatches said.

It was proposed today that Pokrovsk be evacuated. There was danger the whole town might be submerged. The collapse of an embankment rendered conditions dangerous in the small city which lies just across the river from Saratov.

The water was eight feet high in the streets of the neighboring Volga river town of Marxstadt.

REPUBLICAN CHIEF ANSWERS GOVERNOR DONAHEY'S CHARGES

Declares State Is Near Bankruptcy And Balance Spent

COLUMBUS, O., May 27.—Smouldering fires burned today following the announcement by Governor Vic Donahey that he would be a candidate for re-nomination and election.

A Republican broadside was fired by Fred W. Warner, Marion, chairman of the Republican state central committee, who charged the governor had failed "to offer a single constructive policy."

From within the Democratic party came an open letter from A. P. Sandles, Ottawa, candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

"The governor has never offered any solution for the state's financial problems," declared Warner, criticizing the governor's statement of yesterday in which he announced his candidacy.

"The governor's statement charging Republican bosses, senate leaders and utilities interests conspired to deprive him of his constitutional power as governor, is as void of substantial reason as is possibly could be," Warner said.

Warner charged that when Governor Donahey assumed office, "there was a balance of $31,000,000 in the state treasury and that now the entire commonwealth is substantially in a state of bankruptcy as a result of his administration."

GOVERNOR HELPS AUTO VICTIMS

COSHOCOTON, May 27.—Gov. Vic Donahey, his son Hal, and his son-in-law, Park Ogden, rescued two women and a man from beneath an overturned truck here last night, it became known today.

The governor was returning from Dover, Ohio, where he had addressed the Tuscarawas County Jefferson Democratic Club, when he came upon the overturned truck.

Entangled in the wreckage were Mrs. William Moore, of New Comerstown, who was near death today, the woman's husband, William, and Mrs. Ida Stahr.

The governor, Ogden and Hal Donahey extricated the trio from the wreckage and removed them to a hospital here in the executive's automobile.

Examination at the hospital revealed that Moore and Mrs. Stahr had sustained only minor injuries.

After delivering the injured to the hospital the governor continued on his return to Columbus.

WILL BE CANDIDATE

COSHOCOTON, O., May 27.—Judge Charles B. Hunt, of Coshocton, will be a candidate for the presidency of the Ohio State Bar Association when the association holds its annual midsummer meeting at Cedar Point, July 6, 7, and 8, he announced.

MERITS OF WATERWAY PROPOSAL SUBJECT OF DEBATE BEFORE DETROIT UNION LEAGUE CLUB

DETROIT, Mich., May 27.—Under the auspices of the Detroit Union League Club, former Governor W. L. Harding, of Iowa, and Congressman S. Wallace Dempsey, of New York, chairman of the House Rivers and Harbors committee, tonight are scheduled to debate here the respective merits of the so-called New York ship canal and the St. Lawrence waterway.

Representing the middle-west, Harding will defend the proposed Great Lakes-to-the-Sea project via the St. Lawrence river, while Dempsey, a champion of the New York proposal, will argue for the so-called All-American waterway.

Interest in the debate, which is prompted by a desire to clarify the atmosphere toward a solution of the water transportation problem of the great middle-west, was expected to draw here leading exponents of the two proposals.

A delegation of New York business men opposed to the St. Lawrence project and the officers and executive committee of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Association were expected to form the chief support of the two debaters.

In addition, governors of twenty-one affected states, including Gov-

MAN WHO CONCEIVED GROUP PRAYER PLAN EXPLAINS PURPOSE

"Sin Weary" Hope For Manifestation From Supreme Being

(A group of devout Christians who have become "weary of sin," are planning a one hour silent prayer service in the pine woods of Minnesota, June 1. This movement is likely to be followed throughout other sections of the country, according to information today and Vernon Ewing, originator of the idea, has written the following explanation of the service for the United Press.)

By VERNON EWING
TAMARACK, Minn., May 27.—Those of little faith in prayer should consider the wonders of the universe, the countless worlds through a seemingly endless space, and ask themselves if the intelligence behind all this is not able to deal directly with us.

Now imagine a large assemblage gathered in silence awaiting a sign from Him. He may do as he pleases.

Will He disappoint us? I doubt it, providing all classes of people participate, making no plea for any particular manifestation, but leaving it to Him to do as He pleases. God is no respecter of persons—all are equal in His sight—and if He is given an opportunity to do as He pleases with an assembly of all classes, He surely will not disappoint them.

I cannot promise that God will do anything. It is entirely up to Him. But if He does not it will not be because He is not given the chance.

As for criticism that has been expressed, to me it does not seem proper for a minister of the gospel to question either the prayer or the sincerity of persons who have faith in prayer obtaining a response from God.

BLAME VENDETTA FOR LATEST MURDER

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 27.—Police today attributed the murder of five men, four of whom were shot to death here over a period of three months to a vendetta. The latest victim, they say, was Mike Sorrenti, 23, whose bullet-riddled body was found near Santiago on May 18. Sorrenti's body has just been identified.

The fifth victim was shot to death near Cumberland, Md., police say. Since the finding of Sorrenti's body, Dominick Cola has been shot down in his home here. Police say the supposed vendetta had its origin in Italy.

JURY VERDICT SAYS PRODUCER STRAYED FROM TRUTH IN CASE

Convicted on Two Counts Sequel To Bath Tub Party

NEW YORK, May 27.—Earl Carroll, Broadway theatrical producer today was found guilty on two counts of perjury as an outgrowth of the grand jury investigation of the party he gave on the night of February 22 and 23.

The counts on which he was convicted were the third and sixth in the indictment, both having to do with Carroll's denial that Miss Joyce Hawley had bathed in a tub alleged to contain liquor as the climax of his party.

He was acquitted on the two remaining counts which had to do with his denial that he had served liquor at his party. Two other counts relating to the guest list had previously been dismissed.

The jury, when it retired, had been instructed that only the question of perjury was before it and not any violation of the national prohibition act.

Federal George Goddard in his charge, said the sole questions to be considered were:

1. Did Carroll serve intoxicating liquor at the party?

2. Did any one get into the bath tub in which Joyce Hawley was alleged to have bathed?

It was immaterial, Judge Goddard said, whether the party was public or private, as Carroll was not being tried under the dry law, but for perjury in connection with his version of the party as given to the grand jury.

CONTINUE MOVE TO EXPEL MODERNISTS

WASHINGTON, May 27.—A campaign to expel the modernists from the Northern Baptist Church, defeated in convention here will be carried back to the church by the ultra fundamentalists.

A meeting of the Baptist Bible conference, called after the first resolution was defeated, resulted in the decision to continue fighting.

The Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist Church, New York, attended by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., was denounced by the meeting as an apostate and the fundamentalists decided to challenge the right of the Fosdick church, to seats in the conference. Fosdick and his church, the ultra Fundamentalists stated in a resolution, "stand not only as the champions of modernism, but also as the representatives of the uncounted millions of Rockefeller wealth."

Not a Particle of Dandruff or a Falling Hair

"Danderine" will save your hair and double its beauty at once.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff. One application dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stops itching and falling hair.

Furthermore Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-prodng properties cause the hair to grow strong and beautiful.

Bobbed hair has made the girls aware of the dangerous effects of unsightly dandruff which is now more apparent than ever since the hair is short.

Danderine is a sure way to get rid of dandruff and immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents and keep that dandruff out of your hair and off your shoulders. —Adv.

Here is sure relief for Constipation

You cannot be well and happy and be constipated—that is certain. Headache, dullness, sallow complexion, sickness and operations are caused by carelessness and our modern way of living. No laxative is effective that does not act on the entire bowel system. Just the emptying of the lower bowel does not give best results. The new accepted way is by taking KLOK-LAX tablets at 9 at night. KLOK-LAX thoroughly cleans the entire bowel system. Your druggist will guarantee KLOK-LAX—in the "gold and black" box—18 tablets thirty-five cents.

"So lovely . . . I'd be afraid to wash it"

But, Madame, every inch of these summery rayons, rayon and cotton, or novel cotton materials has been washed before you see them

IT does seem unbelievable—that these colorful, soft, shining rayons can be successfully washed—that washing does not mar their dainty freshness.

But it's true—guaranteed true—when the material comes from the Aberfoyle Mills.

Tempting rayons, combinations of rayon and cotton, of silk and cotton—all Aberfoyle Fabrics can be laundered—just as you'd launder any fine wash fabric.

Not a scrap of material leaves the Aberfoyle Mills until it has first been washed. Each piece of goods is thrown into huge tubs and thoroughly washed with soap in warm water. That's the test Aberfoyle gives its fabrics and its colors.

Here is the guarantee Aberfoyle makes the public:

"ALL ABERFOYLE FABRICS ARE GUARANTEED FAST TO SUN AND WASHING"

So make sure it's Aberfoyle before you buy. Then you are certain to get the benefit of forty years' experience in fabric-making—the benefit of the best methods, dyes, designs. Look for the name and guarantee of Aberfoyle on the ends of boards that carry the material. Aberfoyle fabrics are sold by better-class retailers and department stores everywhere.

An Open Invitation to Farmers To Lend Us a Farm!

We want someone who has a farm to lend it to us long enuf to DEMONSTRATE A FARMALL! We supply the FARMALL, the gas, oil, man to run it, and mebbe a couple hamper of Sandwiches to relieve the strain of watching a FARMALL doing its acrobatics.

This farm must be covered with dirt in which corn has been planted, as we aim to CULTIVATE on this first demonstration.

We would like to have this farm located not TOO far from Xenia, so we won't have to travel too far with our outfit.

The farmer who lends us this farm will profit to the extent of having a lot of his corn cultivated free, but outside of this, he won't get a whole lot except the fun of having a crowd milling around his barn lot half a day or so.

WE COULD buy a farm for this purpose but we figured it would cost lots more than to borrow one, so being good-natured and amiable, we decided on the latter plan.

Call me up or write or come in personally.

Cordially yours,
WM. B. McALLISTER, Gen. Mgr.

Beal Complains of Moonlight! Here's What He Says:

Something should be done about dark nights. Why is it that in Xenia the moon always comes out on bright nights when its brightness is unnecessary? Do other cities suffer in this way? Are the business men of this town going to stand still and allow an injustice of this sort to keep on unnoticed, unchallenged? Are we men or mice? Answer THAT!

If co-operation is needed, the members of the Greene County Hardware Company stand ready and willing to do their share in waving the flag, blowing the trumpets and throwing the bull! Let the men, women and youth of this fair city rise in their might and sweep this injustice clean out of Greene County! Let's GO!

Sutton Twins Still Silent!

They are NOT quiet, however, but are engaged in their chosen profession of selling mammoth quantities of Studebakers, Willys-Knights and Overland cars, thereby scattering seeds of joy and at the SAME time making a profit from which they gain their livelihood.

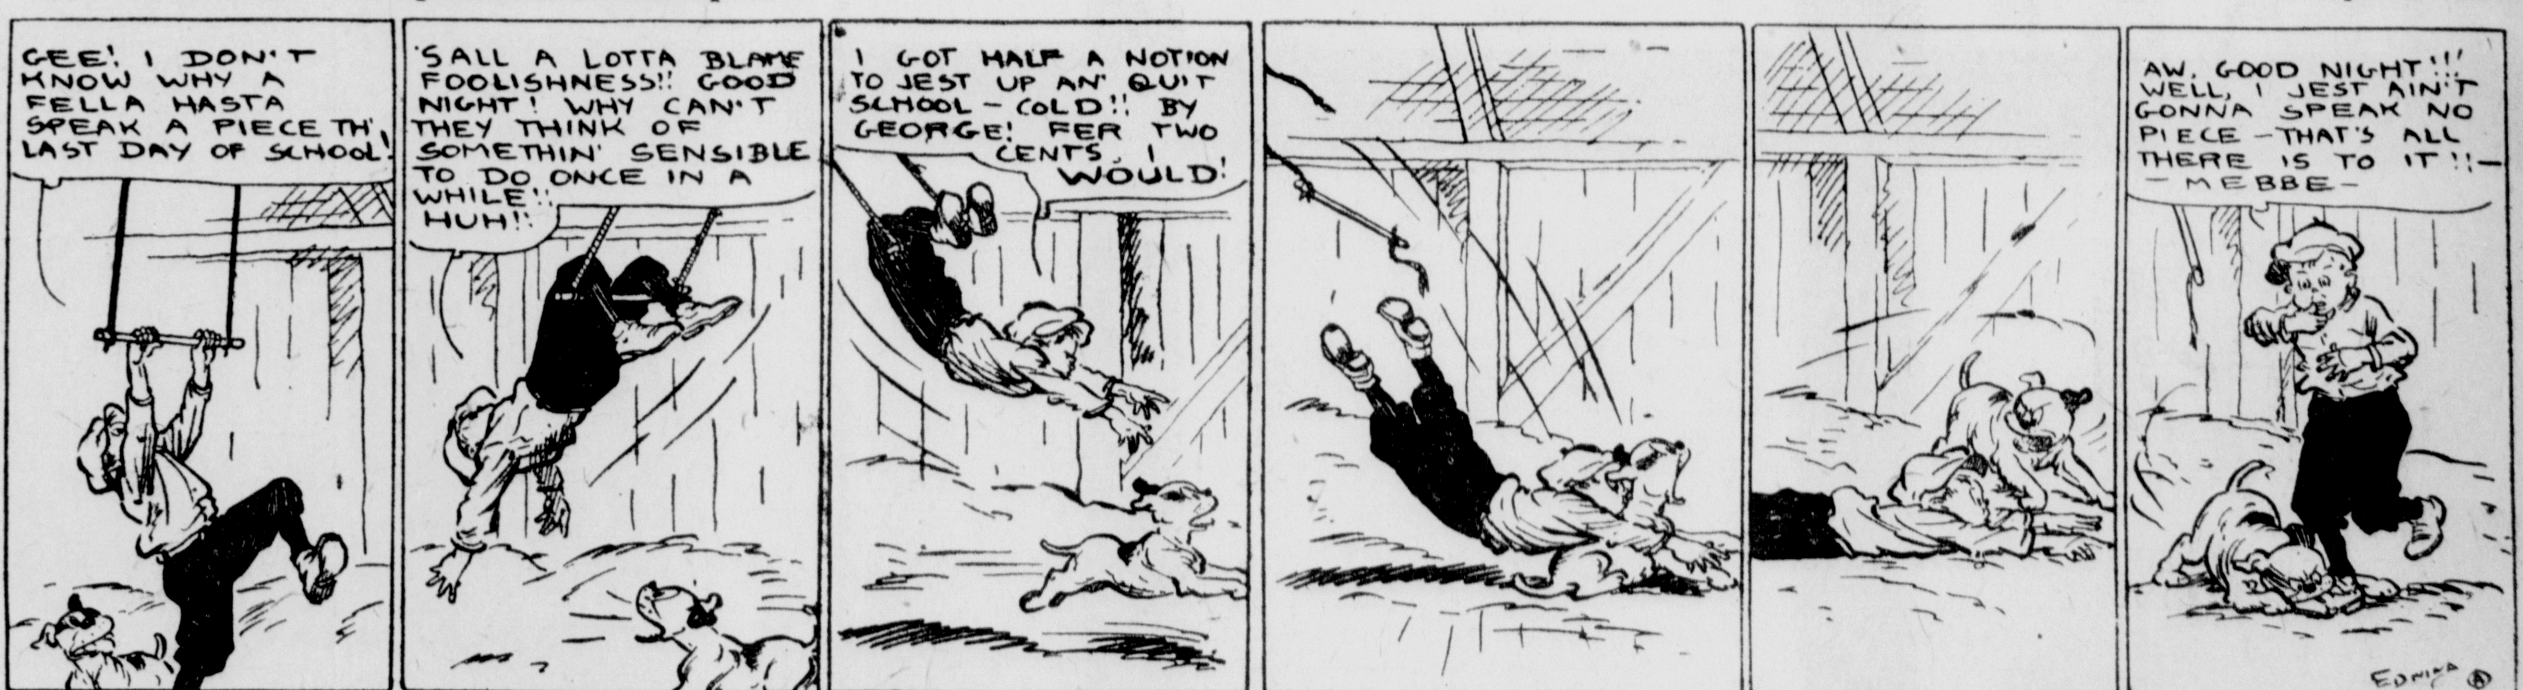

Next week's ad here will probably contain the name and address of the farmer who lends his farm to Mack for the FARMALL DEMONSTRATION. Everyone should read this ad thoroughly in order to enjoy perfect, bounding health.

MR. KOHLER

In Cleveland, Ohio there is a man by the name of Fred Kohler, dignified by the title of sheriff, who, a number of judges have decided, has been making profit from an allowance of money which he was supposed to spend on feeding the prisoners in his jail.

Mr. Kohler is not unique in this profit-making scheme. Other sheriffs in the state do the same thing. Apparently the offense is not a criminal one, nor can it by any means be termed a civil matter.

So Mr. Kohler is, or rather was, 'sitting on top of the world'. We say 'was' because certain wise men have ordered that he stop making profit from the money he is given to feed prisoners.

However, with all their wisdom, the wise men have had to leave Mr. Kohler a certain amount of latitude, and the margin left him to pay for a cook and for cooking utensils is much larger in the case of federal prisoners than others.

Now that Cleveland has ordered Mr. Kohler to give the criminals a little better food it might be supposed that other sheriffs in Ohio will immediately start expending the full amount given them to feed those who for some crime or other are forced to languish behind the iron bars.

To their credit be it said that the majority of sheriffs in the state already do spend the full quota, but in some cases the prisoners go under-nourished unless they can buy, with their own money, delicacies which are sold in the jail.

In some jails it is said these delicacies are sold by prisoners, who pay the sheriff so much per day for the concession.

Ohio today is progressive enough to realize that the criminal is to be pitied rather than despised, that he is to be corrected rather than punished. Furthermore most people understand that to embitter those who are placed in custody is to make them worse offenders after release, than before their sentence was started.

One of the surest ways to starve a human being's soul is to starve its body.

Does it seem right that in one of the leading parts of the world, there should be anything but a stabilized diet for the unfortunate folk who through some fault of a preceeding generation, through environment or through circumstance have transgressed?

We have as great a duty towards the criminal as we have towards the totally insane. If the conducting of a state institute for the insane was on a starvation basis there would be a great outcry.

It is time for drastic action to be taken with regard to the feeding of prisoners. They should not be pampered, but they should be cared for.

The system which allows an individual to seek election by the people and get his campaign expenses back from prisoners' food is a blot on any state's fair name.

"EVENTUALLY"

1906-Twenty Years Ago-1926

The enumeration of unmarried youth of Xenia, between the ages of six and twenty-one is a little more than last year's, being more than 2,500. Mr. Joseph Nash, the well known engineer, is suffering from a severe scalp wound. Mr. William H. McGervey, the well known insurance man, left for a business trip of a couple of weeks at Chicago and Detroit. Mr. Ray King, of Ohio State University at Columbus, spent the day in Xenia visiting relatives. Mr. Gardner Gearhart, who is employed at Columbus was a visitor in Xenia over Sunday.

BY EDGAR A. GUEST

THE LITTLE BOY WHO SHOULD HAVE DIED

His mother cried so when she thought
His little life about to end,
He saw her falling tears, and made
A prayer to God, as she had taught,
And so the hand of death was stayed.

"Dear God," he said, "I want to live,
My mother seems to need me so,
Let me a little while remain,
Spare her the hurt my death would give,
And gladly I will bear the pain."

He lived, and yet his twisted frame
No more on earth could romp about;
He heard the children call outside.

ANOTHER XENIA CASE

Time-Tested By A Xenia Resident.

Just another report of sickness and suffering relieved by Doan's Pills. Another Xenia case that tells of lasting benefit. What can be more convincing? Thousands recommend Doan's for backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and distressing urinary disorders. Doan's are a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. They have helped thousands and should help you. A Xenia case:

J. F. Mellage, prop. shoe repair shop, 222 S. Detroit St., says: "My back ached day in and day out. Every time I stooped, I had pains like a knife through my back. Mornings I dreaded to get up. I was so stiff and lame. My kidneys were disordered, too. The use of Doan's Pills rid me of the trouble." (Statement given August 15, 1921).

On March 19, 1926 Mr. Mellage said: "My kidneys have been all right since Doan's Pills rid me of my trouble."

TWO HOMES MADE HAPPY

"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's

Mrs. J. Storms declares that after

Mrs. J. Storms

These statements were taken from

CUSHION UP

I remember when rubber heels were a novelty and although an enterprising advertiser argued his product far and wide, still the prejudice prevailed and folk went on with their solid tread.

But now how do we find things? Rubber heels are quite universal, and when I buy my pair of shoes I note the rubber heels are there in advance.

Why rubber heels? Well because they make life's walk easier. The scientists tell us about the terrible jolt that each hit of the heel gives to the body at it hits the pavement. And he tells of the many effects—that are not good—which result from these hundreds of needless jolts—be they ever so humble.

I am no scientist but I like rubber heels! I find my nerves in a much happier frame of behavior and besides I like the quiet sound of the rubber heel. There is too much noise in this world anyway.

I wish that rubber heels or some sort of cushion might be invented for people's tongues, or voices, or their looks, or their tempers.

We all need cushioning through-out.

You often hear the phrase:

"He or she gets on my nerves." But if those nerves had what rubber heels give to the shoe, then that person would have a hard time getting on anybody's nerves.

The calm and collected person is the exception in this world.

I know a man who is hard to ruffle. I think of him as well cushioned. The harsh noises of this world hit him silently. He has absolute control of himself.

The Theatre

Elsie Janis, angel of the doughboys, vivacious queen of the variety stage and the star to which a well-known Indiana writing gentleman hitched his wagon years ago, has returned to the Paris vaudeville stage.

She is appearing for a fortnight at Music Hall des Champs Elysees and was given a cordial reception as she began her impressions of such French favorites as Mistinguett, of the shapely limbs and no voice, Raquel Meller as she was before she came to the United States and others.

Miss Janis, the mimic, might have been a Parisienne herself, so impeccable was her dialect in her different numbers. At the close she wound up with a little speech in French.

And thus it was that Elsie Janis returned to the vaudeville stage of Paris. A few years ago she entertained soldiers defending democracy on French soil in the war against Germany.

As a mimic she has no peer. The work that would mean arduous study of characters for most people comes easy to her. She sees a performer in action once and is able to reproduce the stunt almost perfectly after a little practice. Perhaps her hardest imitation is of Will Rogers. But she learned to use a lasso dexterously and chewing gum blatantly and that was that.

Miss Janis travels with her mother, her constant companion. In this age of frequent marriages and frequent divorces of stage folk, her celibacy incites wonder. To the Indiana writer mentioned in the opening paragraph, it has meant disappointment.

As a youngster, he began trailing at the heels of Miss Janis. His work as a reporter, press agent, playwright put him in close touch with the stage. On her trips over the country he followed, paying ardent court. It is computed that she must have refused him hundreds of times.

The story is not well known and perhaps it would open fresh wounds to give his name. He now spends most of his time at his Indiana home apparently having given up the marital alliance he had longed for as a young man. And Miss Janis in Paris, continues to amuse the variety audiences.

MAYOR'S COURT

BOXER IS FINED

Frank Robinson, Dayton, boxer, known under the ring name of Frankie Bob, was fined $25 and costs when he pleaded guilty to intoxication, by Mayor Prugh Wednesday morning.

Three other Dayton men were arrested with Robinson Tuesday night by Patrolmen Charles Thompson, Fred Jones and George Robinson.

Harvey Carr was fined $50 and costs, Charles Cromes, $15 and costs and Charles Feldman, $15 and costs by the mayor. All pleaded guilty to intoxication.

Preparations for the coming over-night hike and "Jamboree" in Dayton were discussed at the joint meeting of Troops No. 1 and 2 in the American Legion rooms Tuesday night.

A signalling contest was also a first honors with thirty-six letters feature in which Troop 1 took out of a possible fifty. Troop No. 2 had twenty-five out of fifty. Adair received for Troop 2 and Hurley sent the messages. Eyer was the Troop 1 signaler and Bath received. The wig-wag signal flag was used.

The "Jamboree" edition of the Rattler, monthly Scout publication, was distributed among Scouts at the meeting.

Tuesday afternoon Troop 1 defeated Troop 2 in a baseball game 14 to 11. Seven innings were played. This evened the series.

MOOSE CIRCUS PLEASES CROWD THAT BRAVES OPENING WEATHER

Rain held down the crowd to below expectations and marred the opening of the Moose Circus at the Ringer show grounds on Cincinnati Ave. Wednesday night. However, the many features of the circus, acrobats, an aerialist, juggler, gymnast and a group of trained animal acts pleased the small body of entertainment-lovers.

The circus is being sponsored by Xenia Lodge No. 1629, Loyal Order of Moose and Xenia Chapter, No. 310, Women of Mooseheart Legion and will continue through Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

The big tent features are in charge of the H. E. Krumholtz.

FACULTY DEFEATED BY SENIORS 9 TO 4 IN WEDNESDAY TILT

Teachers for the second time this year succumbed to the athletic prowess of the students when the Central High School seniors defeated the faculty nine 9 to 4 in a five-inning game at Washington Park Wednesday afternoon.

Stearns pitched well and was accorded good support by his mates. Vic Kolb, the faculty twirler, was something of a puzzle but his own wildness coupled with misplays in the field contributed to the defeat.

Whatever the faculty team lacked in consistent hitting and fielding the team made up for in range slugging. Kolb and Clemans weighed in with triples and Weaver inserted a double.

The seniors expect to play a return game with the Junior Business Men's Club at Washington Park Friday afternoon.

Faculty lineup: Tull, c; Kolb, p; Wipert, 1b; Rupert, 2b; Whitworth, ss; Ballantyne, 3b; Weaver, cf; Clemans, lf; Smith, rf. Senior lineup: Rakoff, c; Stearns, p; Scurry, 1b; Boxwell, 2b; Finney, ss; Parrett, 3b; Hicks, lf; Nash, rf; Huston, cf; Score by innings:

Seniors 0 3 0 3 3-9
Faculty 0 1 1 2 0-4

Circus Co., Springfield and the twenty-one acts are each of a high class variety.

Thursday night, to be celebrated as the real opening night, will be featured as "Fraternal Night" when members of other lodges and societies are invited to attend the festivities.

Those braving the rainy weather on opening night marveled at the many features. There was Bobbie, the educated horse, Peerless Hilbert, the Flying Ecchar, a new form of dog circus introducing dog and monkey acts; Dermo, in trapeze acts; Donto, a slack wire performer; Sister and William in a head and hand balancing act; not to mention Dodo Fisk and his managing horse, Charles Meek and a funny clown troupe, Maude Fox and her troupe of trained racoons. Gladys, of the iron jaw and for the first time a racoon and skunk act of considerable merit.

Manager Krumholtz's electric calliope heralded the circus opening and with the assistance of the Company L Band furnished musical entertainment for the circus.

The Moose Circus is designed to provide money to create a building fund for the contemplated future purchase and building of a Moose home here.

GIRL WHO TEASED SCHOOL SAPIST STILL ABUSING HIM; SHE'S HIS WIFE SAYS SAUER

By MACK SAUER
A recent week-end trip to the little village, where many years ago I made a name for myself and one for my sweetheart in the bark of an old birch, brought back happy memories of the "puppy-love" days of my youth.
We didn't do everything the Bible tells us to when I was in school, but we did "love one another." Before I graduated I loved everything but one girl in the class and deviled eggs. In cancelling names with the "Friendship-Courtship-True Love Marriage-Hate" system I found I loved every girl in the school. And in due time I did love every one but one—her father wouldn't allow her to speak to me.
True love is like an egg—the older it gets the stronger it grows. And love, whether true or not, has always been a mystery to me. When I look at some of my friends here in Xenia and think that their wives love them, it is far beyond my power of imagination to figure out how they can do it. But for a strange love plot, listen to this tale:
In my graduating class was Steve O., a big, awkward, overgrown country boy, whose shirt sleeves were too short for his arms, and whose coat sleeves were too short for his shirt sleeves. His head was large, covered with bushy hair and dandruff, and hung forward from the neck of his coat, like a crow hanging on the top of a flag pole.
If ever Steve loved during his high school days, not even the object of his affection knew it. He wrote no notes, carried no books to and from school for fair maidens, smile and winked at no one. He never did a mischievous trick during his entire school career, and always was at the head of his class in all studies. He was happiest when let alone.

A Teaser
Among those who derived great amusement from teasing Steve, for he was the "goat" of all the jesters of the school, was Malissa O., the daughter of the wealthiest village dairyman. Her complexion was as white as the milk from her father's herd, her disposition as gentle and kind as that of any heifer that grazed on the neighboring hills, and she was as popular about town as the butter milk for which her father's dairy was famous.
"To know her was to love her," and most everyone, but Steve did. He took her jestings and jokes without a word. He saw himself portrayed in chalk drawings of every hideous design on the blackboard from time to time, and very often he recognized the work as that of the mischievous Malissa. Yet nothing she did seemed to disturb him.
In fact, only once during Steve's high school career did I see him move from his slow, easy gait and get into action. And then he was like a geyser spurting forth in a mad fury.
For weeks and months the village bully had teased and abused him, and Steve's only retort was "My word! Fade away from here." And then one day at the last recess Steve turned to the bully and belted "we'll settle this at McClaves corner tonight." And they did. The bully got the thrashing of his life. Steve slumped back into his old self and turned a deaf ear to those who heaped congratulations upon him.

My recent visit being the first in ten years, I was much interested in the members of the old class, and asked where Steve was and what he was doing.
A Teacher
"Steve is teaching in the grade schools here," one of the villagers informed me, "and is getting along fine. He is married, has a baby boy about 6 months old, and lives in a new bungalow on top of the hill."
As I hurried up the winding path toward the house which had been pointed out to me, I wondered who could have fallen in love with Steve. On his front lawn was a young woman sprinkling flowers and humming a familiar tune. On hearing my footsteps she raised her head and as I glanced at her I stammered, "Malissa!"
Here indeed I found a "love nest." Here was happiness such as I have not seen in a long time. It was plain to see that Malissa now thought Steve was the "cream of the town," even though he appeared to me to be the same slow, easy-going chap he was in school. Their new home was really up-to-date and the modern bath reminded me of the days when Steve went to a Y. M. C. A. in a nearby city each Saturday to take a shower bath.
It was late Saturday afternoon when I prepared to leave them for the nearby city. Steve turned to me and said: "I'll ride down to the city with you; I want to go down and take my Saturday bath."

"Why you have a bath room here. Why go to the city?" I asked.
"We only use that for company and on holidays," Steve said, and Malissa nodded her approval.
As we rode along there were few words spoken between us. I was thinking about what a strange thing is love and heaven only knows what Steve was thinking about. Frankly I imagine he was chuckling to himself about how he had me guessing. And was pleased with himself because we was not the fool he knew we always thought him to be.
Anyway, love, like "heaven Chinee," is peculiar.

'If men did the cooking they would insist on a good stove'

Where is the woman who does not agree with Mrs. Rorer's statement? Yet why will so many women put up with an inefficient stove day after day?

MRS. RORER, famous Philadelphia cooking expert, and five other famous cooks who recently conducted a practical test of the Perfection Stove, agree that good cooking results depend to a great extent on a good stove. They agree, too, after critical, exhaustive cooking tests that the Perfection is a mighty good stove. Their comments on the Perfection's performance will give you some idea of what men would demand, and what experts do demand of a stove.
Easy operation. "I like equipment which is easy to work with," said Mrs. Belle DeGraf, San Francisco, home economics counsellor. "And the Perfection certainly is. It lights at the touch of a match. And the heat is regulated by a simple turn of the wick."
Adaptable, too. "The Perfection proved its adaptability to me," commented Mrs. Kate B. Vaughn, Los Angeles, home economics director, "by performing many cooking operations at the same time—frying, baking, boiling, and broiling."
Ample heat supply. "And," said Miss Rosa Michaelis, famous New Orleans specialist, "there is no lessening of heat, regardless of how many burners are lighted. Each is an independent unit."

Dependable flames. "That's true," remarked Miss Lucy G. Allen, of the Boston School of Cookery. "And the flames stay just as you set them. They do not creep."
And clean. "There's no soot or odor, either, when you cook on the Perfection," added Mrs. Rorer. "The efficient long chimneys burn the oil completely before the heat reaches the utensils."
Safe and economical. "All these points recommend the Perfection," said Miss Margaret A. Hall, Battle Creek College of Home Economics. "And, in addition, it is safe and economical in operation. What more could anyone ask of a stove?"

In other words, the Perfection meets the high standards of the six critical cooks. It will meet yours, too. See the 1926 Perfections at any dealer's. All sizes from a one-burner model at $7.25 to a five-burner range at $130.00. Every woman who cooks deserves a good stove.

EXPECT FRANCHISE FOR TRACTION WILL BE GIVEN THURSDAY

City Commission is expected to pass an ordinance authorizing the granting of a twenty-year renewal of the franchise of the Dayton, Springfield and Xenia Southern Railway Co. for interurban service into the city on its second reading Thursday night.

Minor changes may be discussed and written into the ordinance at the meeting to further protect the city's rights.

In view of the company's action in obtaining authority from federal court to abandon the city line, some clause may be inserted in the ordinance protecting the city should the traction people see fit to withdraw interurban service altogether at any time during the twenty-year period.

Commissioners wish the company to be obligated to repair the streets should this happen and the rails be removed as in the case of the one-man street car line.

This is an annual affair of the Veteran Employees and at these picnics every one brings a well filled lunch basket and is prepared to enjoy himself to the fullest extent. After the business session there will be speeches by some well known men, music by the band from the Boys' Industrial School of Lancaster, entertainment by a special entertainer, and a ball game between the veterans of the main line of the Cincinnati Division and those of the Zanesville Branch.

MODERN AUTO TOURIST CARRIES HOTEL ON HIS RUNNING BOARD

Men contemplating automobile camping trips this summer and looking around to find a list of probable things needed find the developments in equipment are more elaborate this year than ever. Tourist supply sections of local stores present a seemingly endless array of appliances and modern conveniences for the auto camper. The ordinary camping outfit requisite in every detail is expensive. The average motorist or tourist in buying an outfit will spend not less than $80. Think of the innumerable things he needs. A tent, cots, a stove, blankets, water bucket and these are necessities—and you can buy just about anything

Health Hints
by the Father of Physical Culture
BERNARD MACFADDEN

Acute appendicitis is usually abrupt in onset but in many cases comes on more gradually. The first signs of all cases begin with a sudden pain or an ache not in the region of the appendix but in the stomach or some other area of the abdomen. In a few hours, however, the pain localizes in the lower right corner of the abdomen. This area will be tender upon pressure. Very little manipulation should be made as there is danger of rupturing a distended appendix, thus causing a fatal peritonitis. A chill followed by a rapid rise of temperature usually follows the appearance of pain. The temperature ranges from 99 to 104 degrees. The breath is foul and the tongue coated. The most significant symptom is tension of the right rectus abdominis muscle, and to relieve this the patient lies on the back with the right knee flexed. A tumor-like swelling arises. The bowels are usually constipated during an attack, but a diarrhea may precede. There is nausea and vomiting. The pulse is usually quickened out of proportion to the height of the fever, but may remain at from 80 to 90 beats per minute. Frequent urination and later retention of urine is often found. The attack may run a mild course terminating in recovery, but with wrong treatment perforation with abscess formation or peritonitis may follow. If all goes well the acute symptoms may abate in from three to five days and health rapidly return. In the treatment of an acute attack of this disease, the first essential is to slow up the peristalsis of the small intestine so that no more material than is necessary may be emptied into the cecum and to this end absolutely no food or drink should be taken until the temperature falls to normal. If there is thirst the mouth may be rinsed out with hot or cold lemon water, but nothing should be swallowed. Next the colon must be emptied by the careful use of the enema and in using this it is not safe to introduce a large amount of water into the colon at a time, but rather use first a pint of quite hot water; after this is expelled another pint, and so on until no more feces are returned. A half pint of sweet oil should then be injected and allowed to remain.

else he wants. The modern tourist who travels now with a hotel on his running board needs suffer no hardships. Look at all the new conveniences. For example, several styles of refrigerators are now being made to fit an automobile. Some use ice and some take water. Another new development is combination tanks for water, oil and gasoline. Many travelers carry their own water in tanks, not depending upon the supply available along the road. Clothing is generally of khaki, stout and strong and not easily soiled. Such things as cooking utensils, fishing and hunting equipment, axes, lanterns and flashlights may be bought and strapped to the car. Popularity of the auto camping trip is increasing by leaps and bounds. As a result, tourist camps have sprung up in all parts of the country, on every main highway. Formerly the hardships of this kind of trip were many but the advantages are increasing and the disadvantages rapidly removed due mainly to the camps furnishing places to spend the night in comfort, and the development of a flourishing business in all kinds of equipment for the camper-tourist. The auto camp is the latest innovation. Greene County has none at present. The county has one or two privately owned but these are nothing beside the modern-equipped ones in other cities. The Xenia Fairground was used for this purpose for some time. Now many of these camps have cottages, kitchens, shower baths, reading rooms, and furnished bungalows which are rented to tourists for small fees. They are really open-air hotels. The modern car of the auto camper may look like a moving van but it will be comfortable and cosy. It resembles a house on wheels. Thousands of motorists will be choosing this form of vacation and starting cross country trips soon but the heaviest traffic will come in July and August, the hot months. Every tourist camp will then be crowded to overflowing.

"Not Possible To Classify"

By Mack Sauer

The old-time pack peddler, sharp-eyed and whiskered, is seen no more. Peddling is a lost art.

Once a striking figure, now only a memory. And where he lived was one of the eternal mysteries. Usually of foreign appearance he spoke in broken English. Unheralded he would slip into a community and then slip out as quietly as he came.

There was one who carried his two telescopic bags full of gingham and calicoes. He made regular territory and would never accept a ride. He wore two coats winter and summer and invariably had his coat lapels covered with badges. His shoulders were stooped from the weight of countless trips under heavy bundles. While walking through a city, he would never use the sidewalks, preferring rather to stroll along the gutters, picking up stray bits of paper and what not.

To all the countryside he was "Joe, The Peddler." And as everybody expected, Joe died with his pack strapped to his shoulders. A long trip through the steep and rocky hills of Scioto County in the dead of winter. In a fierce, biting storm he fell. For a mile he crawled through the snow on a broken limb. The next day his body, cold and stiff, was found by hunters.

A search of his clothes revealed $1,000 sewed in his underwear. A bank book showed savings of nearly $5,000. Cancelled checks, however, proved that most of his money had gone—Joe had given it to the poor. Folks came from miles away to pay a word of tribute to the peddler.

Behind each wanderer was a story. One was unjustly accused when young. The startles that came from his neighbors cut him deep. He soon found himself going about the country with a pack on his back, resigned to the life of a peddler.

REQUIREMENTS FOR TEACHING DEFINED BY SUPERINTENDENT

"There seems to be a misapprehension prevalent regarding the requirements for those entering the teaching profession," H. C. Aultman, county school superintendent, said Wednesday.

"In general the requirement for beginners is two years normal training for elementary schools and four years of college for high school teachers. Exceptions are made for grade teachers which applies to certificates granted before May 1914, life certificates and those who had eight years teaching experience previous to 1920," he continued.

"Teachers may begin with one year normal training providing at least six weeks or four and one-half credit hours are added each year until the two-years training has been completed.

"Certificates may only be renewed by adding four and one-half credits for a one year certificate or thirteen credits for a three year certificate in addition to passing an examination in the principles of teaching.

"These 1926 requirements have forced a number of teachers to drop from three-year certificates to one-year.

Several boards of education of Greene Co. have already declared for at least two years of training for all new teachers to be taken until their system and it seems only a matter of time until the two-year requirement will be made general throughout the State. As a result quite a number of teachers are attending the summer schools for longer terms or are taking a years leave of absence in order to meet the professional requirements.

Mrs. Marie C. Haller, Republican, of Port Thomas, is running for Congress from Kentucky on a wet platform.

Life miserable for her, Bertha B. Ballard complains in her suit for divorce from John B. Ballard, filed in Common Pleas Court.

They were married September 18, 1918, the petition discloses. She says at this time she had two children by a former marriage, aged six and eight years, and the defendant had three children by a former marriage, adults. No children have been born to them.

Plaintiff alleges she was forced to leave her husband May 24 because of his alleged cruel treatment. An injunction is asked by Mrs. Ballard restraining her husband from disposing of household goods in their home in Xenia and that she may be awarded the household goods as alimony.

Mrs. Ballard has also brought a second suit against her husband asking for partition of real estate in Xenia in which she says she owns half.

ADVENTISTS OPEN GENERAL CONFERENCE IN MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 27.—Purposes of making plans for the next four years. Election of new officers will be held, reports of officers will be given and missionaries from the far flung section of the world will be also present to give their reports.

The official delegates number 459 although representatives coming from every section of the country are expected to swell the attendance figure to above the 8,000 mark.

Seventh Day Adventists throughout the world are united in their belief that Christ will return in this generation and they are anxious to Milwaukee to learn how near accomplished is the program the church has undertaken in giving the gospel concerning the return of Christ to every nation, kindred, tongue and people in this generation, according to officials in charge of the conference.

The forty eight states in the union and the provinces of Canada are divided into twelve conferences, all of which are represented at the sessions here. Europe has sent eleven delegates at large from the division headquarters, and there are also delegates present from the Baltic States, Great Britain, Germany, France, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Italy, Poland, Scandinavia, Russia, Yugoslavia and Greece. From Africa, delegates came from Egypt on the north, down through the continent as far as Cape Colony.

The Far Eastern Division have men and women here from China, Korea, Japan, Malaysia and the Philippines, while the southern Asiatic division is represented by delegates from India and Ceylon. Practically all of the countries of South America from the northern coasts down to Patagonia have sent delegates and islands of both the Pacific and Atlantic are represented.

Alec Smart, the swindler, who has a trick car that runs on real gas from a secret tank, takes Hem and Amy for a demonstration of his phony gas substitute. So Hem will discover its prearranged weakness and fail for their future plans.

WELL, AS YOU SAY-- ASIDE FROM SMOKING THINGS UP YOU'D NEVER KNOW YOU WERE BURNING A GASOLINE SUBSTITUTE-- THERE MUST BE SOME WAY TO STOP IT-- PULL UP A MINUTE-- I WANT TO TAKE A PEEK AT THE PLUGS--

I'LL ADMIT I'M STUMPED--

YOU SAW ME MEASURE THE WATER WHEN I FILLED THE TANK IN BACK AND I ONLY PUT IN ONE PILL OF THE SUBSTITUTE-- IT'S GOT ME GUESSING--

GOOD NIGHT-- HERE'S YOUR TROUBLE-- YOUR SPARK PLUGS ARE ALL GUMMED UP-- HOW MUCH OIL DID YOU PUT IN THE CRANKCASE, RUSTY?

IT'S ONLY HALF FULL.

YOU DON'T SUPPOSE I'VE GOT TOO MUCH OIL IN THOSE PILLS DO YOU?-- I'VE BEEN MIXING SOME IN BEFORE THEY'RE DRY SO THE GAS'D FLOW THROUGH THE INTAKE PIPE QUICKER--

WELL, WHADDY KNOW ABOUT THAT-- WE NEVER NEEDED NO OIL IN IT AT ALL-- GOLLY-- WE'D BEEN STUCK YET IF IT HADN'T BEEN FOR YOU, HEM--

GOOD BOY, HEM-- YOU'RE A REAL INVENTOR-- A GENIUS-- FINE -- GREAT -- -- WONDERFUL-- BELIEVE ME, BOY-- I'LL NEVER FORGET THIS FAVOR--

TODAY'S INSTALMENT
XXXV--A STOWAWAY

BILL and Nathalie and Dick went over to Nassau with the new affair; there was a small boat that was to take the passengers out to the big liner that was anchored some distance out. It was just twilight when at last we started. I stood waving to Bill until we were well out, and then went to the side of the boat where I could see the liner.

My eyes were filled with tears. I hated to leave the enchanted bit of the tropics where I had found Bill, and happiness. I told myself that I'd always been a shallow flirt, that I'd married Jim without knowing whether I really loved him or whether it was just fascination that was leading me into marriage.

But now I really was in love. I felt like a different person. I stood there looking at the ship that was to carry me back to New York, and wished that I could fly instead of having to spend three days at sea.

As it grew darker lights went on all over the ship; it was a gorgeous thing to look at, as it lay there at anchor, waiting for us.

But I had to stop being romantic and decide what I was to do when I boarded the ship, without a ticket, a stowaway. I knew that every inch of space was taken. What would they do with me?

Anyway, they couldn't make me get off and walk back! That was some consolation!

People all about me were chattering gaily. Many of them were laden with tropical fruit and beautifully woven baskets that they were taking home with them. Suddenly I felt very much alone; if it hadn't been for my hopes of the future, I'd have felt very sorry for myself.

When we reached the liner and were safely aboard I found a steamer chair that was off in a corner by itself, and curled up there, hoping that nobody would notice me. Everybody else was rushing around, finding their staterooms and getting settled. Never before had a stateroom seemed so desirable to me!

When we had been out for an hour I went to the purser.

"I haven't any room," I told him, and I haven't an ticket. But I've got to get back to New York. What shall I do?"

I had breakfast early.

some steamer rugs and pillows from the deck steward, and made myself perfectly comfortable.

I wasn't at all sleepy. I just wanted to lie there and think about Bill, and plan how happy we'd be when I was married to him.

It never occurred to me that perhaps Jim wouldn't be willing to let me divorce him.

I got up early the next morning, before there was anyone around, used one of the stewardess's rooms to bathe and change my clothes in, and was out on deck again. I had breakfast early, and was taking a constitutional on deck when the captain came up to me.

He looked awfully cross. I shook in my shoes.

"So you're our stowaway," he said gruffly. "Well, what shall I do? Put you in chains?"

"I don't care what you do with me, so long as you let me stay on back to New York," I've got to get back to New York."

"Don't you know that you'll get me into serious trouble?" he said. "I suppose you didn't think of that."

He grumbled on for a while, but finally went off and left me alone. I curled up in my steamer chair again, alone with my dreams.

Tomorrow--Home Again.
